'What's that mountain?'
Twelvetreestrees Range.

Named after William Harper Twelvetreestrees who migrated from England to Tasmania in 1891. Appointed Government Geologist and Chief Inspector of Mines for the Geological Survey of Tasmania. He expanded the role of the Survey to the long-term systematic study of Tasmania's mineral fields (specifically in Tasmania's west). In the distance you see the Frankland Ranges, formed out of ancient metamorphic rock of the Pre-Cambrian era (between 1000-600 million years ago).
